Does Faith Take A Vacation? by Rabbi Charles S. Sherman

Many years ago, I had an experience on a Saturday morning, in my home, which has always stayed with me. I was a young Rabbi then, and Leah and I had four little children. I had just begun a two-week vacation and was looking forward to some rest and relaxation, a change of pace, days without a set routine.

It was the first Saturday morning of my vacation and I decided to "sleep in," planning on giving services a pass. I heard my wife down the hall, talking to the older children, who were up and apparently putting on their Shabbat clothes. "We're not going to services this morning," Leah told them. Her comment was met with questions.

My kids were good kids—but it was not that they were "angels." The point is they were perplexed. "Why?" one of them asked. "Abba is on vacation," Leah answered. And then it hit me, that if you follow that line of logic, being on vacation also meant being on vacation from my faith, my community, from teaching my children through setting a good example.

I'll be honest, it was not a proud moment for me. What it was, though, was a powerful, learning moment. And the teachers were my own children, who did not understand why vacation and going to services were somehow incompatible. Some of what we learn, we know because others have learned it and found a way to teach it to us.

That morning I jumped out of bed, dressed quickly, and we all went to services together.

Enough said. See you this summer in shul!

Cantor Joshua Gordon Retires

I cannot visualize Josh Gordon as a seven-year old Yeshiva bucher. I keep seeing our mature white-haired school psychologist, dressed in the clothing of a yeshiva bucher, or I visualize a dark-eyed traditional Jew, who somehow bears no resemblance to our retiring cantor. When I asked Josh over beer about the origins of the man we know today, he remembered going on Shabbat to a different synagogue every week in Newark, NJ where he came into the world, or in New York City, where he grew to be a young man. His father would demand to know the melodies of all the prayers, and later, demanded that he prepare the Haftarah every week. Josh still takes pride in knowing every Haftarah by heart, and even more pride in the congregants he has taught to cantillate.

Josh joined Melrose when it was just Melrose-B'nai Israel, and developed a great relationship with Rabbi Moseson. He had graduated Yeshiva University in New York, in 1962. He followed this with a Masters degree in School Psychology from Queens College, and another Masters degree from Dropsie College in Jewish Education. With feet firmly planted in Judaism and Education, Josh went on to be a Cantor at Ne'er Tamid in Delaware County, a post he held for 14 years, and practiced school psychology with distinction.

Somehow he made his way to his cantorial position at Congregation Melrose, and School Psychologist and Advisor in the Philadelphia Public Schools. Seeking ways of bringing people together, Josh worked to bridge the gaps in his Jewish community as hazzan, and to bridge the gaps in the schools as psychologist and union steward. All of the melodies he learned as a seven-year old, he has brought to us to enrich our Jewish experience. Josh views his 36 years at Melrose B'nai Israel, as it amalgamated to become MBIEE. He joined Editorial note: This is a rather different issue of the Shofar. Most of the work was finished when Mitchel Pinsley's administration finished but the issue was not ready for the printer. The editorial choice was to retain the prepared material because there are important stories here (Rabbi's column, Cantor Gordon's retirement, Sisterhood story). Also, it is important to let our members know about memorials and contributions. Therefore, we have finished this issue with some new material. We will be publishing a special issue of the Shofar near the end of August with full information on the High Holidays including full service schedule. Meanwhile, please enjoy this issue.

President's Message

This is more likely than not my last column in the Shofar because I am not sure that there will be another edition before your new President takes office on July 1, 2017.

It has been a pleasure to work with Rabbi, Cantor, Baal Korei, Joan, Mary, and Sam. Each is a special gem in his or her way and, without them, your shul would barely function. Much of what they do is visible; however, there is much that is done "behind the scenes," day in, and day out, that allows us to function smoothly. All deserve our gratitude and thanks.

Also to be appreciated and thanked are our volunteers whose efforts prepare many of the mailings you receive, help answer the telephones do other office work, and assist the office by performing numerous activities that facilitate the running of the shul.

Your committees—Sisterhood, Men's Club, Adult Education, and Religious—devoted untold hours making preparation for and presenting programming and events which are as good as, if not better than, that offered by other shuls in our geographical area. Other committees, such as our newly formed Inclusion Committee, and our revitalized Membership Committee, have been working to increase our membership numbers.

There are countless others who, without being asked, undertake duties and responsibilities which are necessary for MBIEE to function week in and week out. Many of these individuals prefer to remain anonymous and those wishes will be honored. Most of you know these persons and when the opportunity arises, take a moment to thank them for their help.

And the proverbial last but not least has been saved for the officers and directors, both past and present, who provided good counsel during this two year journey. There were some bumps in the road along the way, but that was not to be unexpected. We still made it through!

Mitchell Pinsly

High Holiday Checklist!

The High Holidays are just around the corner. A quick check list:

✓ 1. Have you paid you membership dues so that your tickets will arrive on time? Remember that you are expected to pay at least half of your dues before the holidays. (If there are extenuating circumstances that should be considered for dues relief please contact Len Cohen at 215-635-0264. No one should not be a member because of financial considerations!)

✓ 2. Have you sent in your listings for the Yahrzeit Booklet that we use for memorial services on Yom Kippur and on the Festivals? This is one of the ways in which we remember those who have given so much to us but are no longer here in person.

✓ 3. Have you sent your greetings information to the Sisterhood so that it may be listed in their booklet which is distributed on Rosh HaShanah?

✓ 4. If you need special assistance to attend services, please notify the office. We are in the process of arranging for valet parking for those who might need it.

✓ 5. Have you made arrangements to prepare your neshamah for the Holy Days? A good way to do this is to come to Selichot Services on September 16. This inspirational service will also be highlighted by a discussion with Rabbi Sandy Sasso and Rabbi Charles Sherman. Rabbi Sasso was the first woman to be ordained by the Reconstructionist Rabbinical College.

the congregation under Rabbi Moseson, and recalls his friendship fondly. I have watched with joy as Rabbi Addison, and now Rabbi Sherman, warmed to Josh, and shared the leadership of the service with him. For Josh Gordon, Melrose was a home away from home. He felt as comfortable in congregants' homes as he would at an old friend's. "I wish I could have done more," he concluded.

This has been an especially challenging year for Josh. We at Melrose wish him many more years with his grandchildren, whom he longs to enjoy more often. We wish him well, and we will remember his niggunim, that he taught us, and that he learned from his father, and his teachers.

A Letter From Cantor Joshua Gordon to the Congregation

My dear friends,

I wanted to take this opportunity to thank you for the wonderful ways you have treated me for the past 36 years of my life. As a vocational counselor I have always urged my students to seek the highest regard for the professional working relationship. In that kind of relationship both sides challenge each other to turn out the highest quality of work.

I have never imagined that warm relationships such as ours could thrive the way ours did. At one of the goodbye sessions, I was deeply touched by the number of kisses I received from our members followed by requests from surviving spouses for me to please perform their funeral services when their time comes. In all actuality, it was remarkably easy to appreciate our congregation because they were showing just plain old-fashioned menchlilchkeit. These people were the same kind people I grew up with.

When I first came to you, I immediately felt at home. My first Purim touched my heart when Rose and Irv Cohen came into schule and gifted me with fresh-baked hamantaschen.

As I'm going through the preparations to close down my home I realize that I'm preparing for myself and by myself. The one person who really belongs at my side will not bethere. Recognizing that from this time forward my life will always be incomplete I am, respectfully, requesting that you cancel the November event. There is no way I can be present when my heart is elsewhere.

Sincerely,

Josh

Outgoing Officers

It is always hectic when one group finishes their term of office and a new group takes over. The new officers would like to thank and recognize the effort and work of our outgoing officers:

President:

Mitchell Pinsley

Vice Presidents:

Alan Berson

Lori Goldfarb

Edythe E. Kaplan

Jonathan Tobin

Financial Secretary:

Saul Goldfarb

Co-Treasurers:

Warren Nachman

Len Cohn

Secretary:

Ariana Burrows

They have all spent many hours and a lot of effort to keep "The Little Shul with the Big Heart" going for the last two years. Some of our members may not know that we do not have an executive director. This means that the officers are basically doing their elected jobs and part of what would normally be the work of an executive director. As a congregation we extend our thanks and congratulations for a job well done.

Shir Hadash: Sing a New Song

The Officers and the Board of Directors is pleased to announce that following the retirement of Cantor Gordon arrangements have been made for 5778 (2017–18). As our main ba'al tefilah (leader of prayer), Rabbi Kevin Bernstein will be handling most of our services. You can learn more about him below. In addition, Mr. David Seltzer will be our alternate ba'al tefilah. Unfortunately neither Rabbi Bernstein nor Mr. Seltzer are able to handle the High Holiday services this year, but we have secured the services of an experienced and distinguished cantor, Cantor Gordon Piltch.

Cantor Piltch has served as cantor for two major congregations in New York for 35 years before retiring to Israel. We look forward to welcoming Cantor Piltch. We would like to thank all of the people who worked hard to set up this arrangement: first, to our rabbi, Rabbi Charles Sherman, then to our immediate past-president Mitchel Pinsley, and then to Warren Nachman and his committee for their special

We are a shul which can proudly claim that it is a place where rabbis and cantors come to pray. Please join us to hear our new ba'alim tefilim.

Meet Rabbi Kevin Bernstein

Rabbi Bernstein became a rabbi in 2007 following study at the Reconstructionist College. During those years of study, he worked in various local institutions and positions in the Philadelphia region, including the Perelman Jewish Day school, the Jewish Community High School of Gratz College, and the URJ's Mitzva Corps Program. Since becoming a rabbi, he served as an educational consultant to Moving Traditions and the Jewish Community Center Association, as the Director of Education at Germantown Jewish Centre, and most recently as Assistant Director of Development for the Reconstructionist Rabbinical College and Jewish Reconstructionist Communities. In addition, Rabbi Bernstein has helped parents welcome their Jewish sons into the community, and newcomer adults into the community as a mohel.

Rabbi Bernstein's primary professional passion is helping Jewish families further engage in Judaism that is meaningful to them. It is this passion that led him to become a Jewish professional as his second career—he is also a veterinarian.

Rabbi Bernstein loves music (especially Israeli and American folk music), is a committed softball enthusiast, an informed and mildly addicted sports fan, and loves, most of all, learning from others and their life experiences. Rabbi Bernstein comments, "I was raised in an observant Conservative home, close enough for his shomeret shabbat mother and he to walk to shul on Shabbat, where he somehow learned to love davening with a small, but committed community."

Inclusion Action Committee

The Inclusion Committee has been meeting monthly since March, 2016. As described in the high holiday prayerbook insert, we set goals for ourselves and determined a timeline by which to meet them. As of this writing (in April), the following initiatives have been instituted:

- A row of handicapped parking spaces is available opposite our entrance.
- Visual enhancement devices and large print prayerbooks are offered.
- Seating within the sanctuary is available upon request for congregants or guests with wheelchairs or other mobility devices; contact us at inclusion@mbiee.org, or call the office.
- The Chesed Committee has been revitalized with calls being made and cards sent; it is our intent to widen the scope of our efforts next year—please contact us (as above) if you would like to help.
- Gluten-free, sugar-free and dairy-free items are available at every Kiddush and meal.
- In February, a very stimulating educational program highlighting disability issues in the Jewish community was presented at MBIEE in partnership with Jewish Learning Venture; two authors shared with us their books and family experiences. More events are planned for next year.
- A group of committee members and congregrants were trained by The Regional Foundation Center in searching for grant opportunities that match our needs.

We are most excited about a project undertaken by three members of our congregation. They are donating in memory of loved ones a wheelchair accessible portable Torah Table for the sanctuary floor. We have contracted with a synagogue furniture designer in Israel who is crafting a piece based upon our specifications. Much more about this in the months ahead! We expect to have it by the high holidays.

Based on our research, we have found and applied for grants that will enable us to enhance our sound system and purchase assistive listening devices. We will keep you informed!

In March, we arranged for a team from the Lehigh Valley Center for Independent Living to assess our facility in terms of accessibility for those with mobility devices. A comprehensive report resulted with interesting possibilities for accommodations. As we study the report, we will share the findings.

We are planning to offer volunteer opportunities for our congregants in community facilities that service people with disabilities. This is in the planning stages now. Stay tuned for the details.

We now have an MBIEE Inclusion Fund. Please consider us when making donations to the shul.

Our thanks to our hard working committee. If you wish to join our efforts, please contact us at the email address above, call the office or one of us. We welcome your participation!

MBIEE Men's Club

As we close on this year of programming and look to next year's calendar, it is really important to focus on growing the group. I am hopeful that all members of The Men's Club will reach out to those in the congregation who are not taking advantage of participating. We are in fact an arm of the synagogue and need more fingers in the pot. When groups do not grow and expand, things become stagnant. It is in everyone's best interest to help all of the auxiliary arms of the shul prosper.

Looking back on the year we had a great sports panel in September, a terrific Men's Club Shabbat Weekend in November, started to have some Sunday Brunches and hosted an excellent panel of Economic Journalists from The Philadelphia Inquirer in March.

In closing, please get involved and help us with new ideas and programs. I am happy to talk and answer questions or concerns at any time. I can be reached at 215-499-7144.

Have a great summer!

Andy Black
Men's Club President

Mitzvah Food Pantry

We want to issue a collective Thank You—Todah Rabbah—to all those members, visitors, staff members of MBIEE who have recently donated food to our Mitzvah* Food Pantry collection box.

The Passover season actually had our wooden container overflowing, due to your generosity, and to the concern you showed for those who might not have been able to celebrate and enjoy a holiday blessed with enough to eat, nourishment for body and soul, because of their unfortunate circumstances and lack of resources for the basic nutrition they require.

We can all help by being mindful of community needs. Those of us who can should give to those who can not. Continued concern will make people's lives better.

With much appreciation…

Carol and George Weinbaum

Sisterhood Update

Sisterhood has been very busy bringing interesting and exciting programs to MBIEE as well as improving synagogue life. The curator of the Jewish Archives at Temple University came to our February meeting. We learned so much practical information about how to get our archives included in their collection. This will be a project next year. We also had a speaker at our April meeting from Dawn's Place—the only safe house for women escaping commercial sexual exploitation on the East Coast. Members brought in donations of clothing and toiletries for the women.

Our kitchen was spotless after having been professionally cleaned. Sisterhood, The Men's Club and the Board of Directors paid for this very important cleaning. Sisterhood is in the process of working out new guidelines to insure that we are always clean and kosher. We participated in the Kehillah's Purim Carnival by providing a basket for their auction. We continue to raise funds through our sales of scrip from Giant, Acme, and Shoprite. We also sell our beautiful Honor and Memory cards. We were delighted to have so many women participate this year in our Sisterhood Shabbat. Ariana Burrows once again planned a lovely program. MBIEE Sisterhood Torah Fund Evening was on Wednesday May 10 at 5:30 PM. This program featured a program highlighting the Conservative/Masorti community in Santiago, Chile from the musical perspective of Hazzan David and Ellen Tillman.

Game Night was held on Sunday, May 21. Men's Club joined us in this endeavor. There were all kinds of games, a light dinner, a 50-50, and beautiful baskets auctioned off.

Our book club led by Sandy Pinsly has discussed some very interesting and unusual books. The Sisterhood Mah Jongg is every Monday night. All are welcome to join us.

Sisterhood is an important part of the life of MBIEE. We are hoping to have all of the women in our congregation join Sisterhood. More members equal more ideas equal more work for the good of MBIEE.

Daily Minyan

MBIEE conducts a daily morning minyan for the benefit of members and the community. Participation is needed from men and women in order to fulfill this important mitzvah and congregational responsibility.

Times of minyanim are listed above. There are mornings when regular attendees may be ill or away. Therefore, if you are available one day a week or even one day a month, your attendance will be appreciated.

You can perform an important mitzvah by attending a morning minyan and perhaps even having the satisfaction of being the tenth person some morning. Help us out.

If you have any questions, please call Len Cohen at 215.635.0264.
